DETAILED ACTION

The preliminary amendment filed January 10, 2001 amending claims 3-6, 8-11 and 13-16 has been entered.

The preliminary amendment filed August 10, 2001 amending the specification to insert references to the sequence identifiers has been entered.

Claims 1-16 are pending.

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, drawn to an uracil-DNA glycosylase, classified in class 435, subclass 200.
- II. Claims 6-13, drawn to a DNA encoding an uracil-DNA glycosylase and a microorganism comprising thereof, classified in class 536, subclass 23.2.
- III. Claim 14, drawn to a method of making of an uracil-DNA glycosylase, classified in class 530, subclass 412.
- IV. Claims 15 and 16, drawn to methods of use of an uracil-DNA glycosylase, classified in class 435, subclass 91.2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1652

Inventions I and II are patentably distinct because an enzyme and a DNA are different compounds each with its own chemical structure and function, and they have different utilities. A DNA molecule of invention II can be used for the production of an encoded enzyme and as a hybridization probe, for example. An enzyme of invention I can be obtained by recombinant techniques using a DNA encoding thereof and by a materially different method such as by the biochemical purification or chemical synthesis.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case an uracil-DNA glycosylase can be made by recombinant techniques using a DNA encoding thereof and by a materially different method such as by the biochemical purification or chemical synthesis with subsequent purification using various steps.

Inventions I and IV are related as product and processes of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, an uracil-DNA glycosylase can be used in a method of claim 15, in a method of claim 16 or for the production of an antibody, for example.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the literature and sequence searches required for each of the Groups are not required for another of the Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Ms. Janet Cord on June 26, 2002 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
